	10:30 - 11:45	Session 1: The Roll Out of Regulatory Reforms – Progress so Far and What is Left to Do? <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • The Session aims to discuss how regulatory and supervisory authorities (RSAs) have achieved implementation and compliance with key prudential regulatory standards. It will look at what have been the main challenges, including the capacity building dimension. What is still to be accomplished e.g. on macroprudential supervision, cross- sector and consolidated supervision, stress testing and dealing with systemically important banks?
	11:45 - 13:00	Session 2: Developing Liquid Islamic Money Markets: Challenges in Harmonisation and Local and International Issuances <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • This session aims to discuss the current state of the sukuk market against the backdrop of the existing economic conditions and market dynamics. What more needs to be done to spur sukuk issuances for liquid and vibrant Islamic money markets? What are specific legal, regulatory and disclosure reforms needed to resolve the impediments? Do sukuk structures and absence of trading platforms pose major hindrances to develop an active secondary sukuk market?
	13:00 - 14:00	Lunch and Prayers
	14:00 - 15:15	Session 3: New Horizons – Wider Outreach for the IFSI and Structural Challenges <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • This session aims to discuss the potential for Islamic finance to become more active across the start-up/ SME financing space. What are the associated challenges from the regulatory and risk perspectives, and how can Islamic finance better manage these challenges? Discussion will also consider the rise of FinTech (i.e. crowdfunding/ digital currencies) and how far Islamic finance can benefit it from its growth.
15:15 - 15:45	Coffee Break and Networking
15:45 - 17:00	Session 4: What does a Future State Islamic Finance Industry Look Like? <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • The panel discussion will address the opportunities for Islamic finance going forward. Discussions will aim to examine whether the current state and shape of the industry are optimal given structural and regulatory challenges. The panel may look at where it sees the industry in the next 5 years; what does a future state Islamic financial services industry look like, and how do we get there? What are the pre- conditions in terms of capacity building and human resources?
